

DAVID T. ALEXANDER, RCA

Canadian [b. 1947]

David T. Alexander studied at the Vancouver Art School and at Langara College before graduating with a BFA from Notre Dame University. In 1980, he moved to Saskatoon to obtain his Master's degree while researching in New York, London and Paris. In 2006, Alexander attended the Morris Graves Foundation in California as an invited guest artist-in-residence. In 2008, he returned to the high Arctic as an invited member aboard a 75 ft. sailing ship. In 2010 he was a resident in the Grand Canyon and 2012 he was a guest artist for 2 months in Taos, New Mexico. Alexander's work can be found in public, private and corporate collections including the Vancouver Art Gallery, the Museum of London, the University of Toronto, Concordia University in Montreal, the Museum of Art in Iceland, Canada House in London, HBC Global Art Collection in New York, and in Embassies in Berlin, Beijing and Krakow.
