CORI CREED

Cori Creed was born in Vancouver in 1973. She studied Fine Art at Simon Fraser University and Design at Capilano College.

Creed's work explores the surface and colour of paint on canvas. She is fascinated by the tangles, textures and vistas of our land and the often fleeting and varied moods of the climate and skies. She recreates an emotional impression of landscape simultaneously making the viewer aware of the surface and the medium. Her work invites the viewer to experience a new relationship to the world around them.
